Tough Conversations

Wednesday, May 8, 2019 at 6:30 p.m., featuring Chad Houser, Café Momentum

Always one to add a little levity to the conversation, Chad often describes Café Momentum as "taking kids out of jail and teaching them to play with knives and fire." But levity aside, it's his charisma and passion to teach life, social and employment skills to Dallas' most at-risk youth that makes Houser a hit with everyone from philanthropists and dinner-goers, to the young people participating in the program. After 17 years as a chef, Chad sold his partnership of Parigi Restaurant to devote his full attention to the role of Executive Director of Café Momentum in 2012. Chad will share his story with JLD members and discuss how making a tough decision opened the doors for at-risk youth.

President's Perspective

It is hard to believe that we are coming to the end of our 97th Junior League year. As I look back over this year, I am so inspired by the way in which our members – Active, Provisional and Sustainer – have given of their time and talents. Our members have so many opportunities today, but also so many demands on their time. Yet, time and time again you choose to give of yourselves to the Dallas community through the Junior League of Dallas. Each year the President has the privilege of choosing a theme for the Board and Leadership Council. This year I chose “A Treasured Legacy”. To me, this describes the Junior League of Dallas. For almost a century, our members have taken the experiences and training that the JLD has provided them and built a legacy of service and leadership in our community.

Here are just a few of the ways our members have continued to build upon this great legacy:

- Active members gave nearly 130,000 uncompensated volunteer hours to 39 non-profit agencies in the Dallas community. We matched our trained volunteers with $1 million in grants to these agencies.
- Nearly 300 Provisionals received countless hours of experiential and issue based training which will set them on their course as Active members of the league. These ladies also completed 14 Provisional projects this year, leaving their mark on our community.
- Our Sustainer group has continued to thrive through a variety of volunteer service and interest group activities. In March, they hosted a wonderful luncheon at JLD headquarters celebrating the graduating seniors of Irma Rangel High School.
- Our T. Boone Pickens Leadership Institute celebrated its 10th Anniversary this year. This program has graduated over 300 women in the last decade. Women who have gone on to lead within the JLD as well as in corporate and non-profit board rooms.

The JLD started in 1922 with 40 women volunteering to help children and the disabled and has grown to nearly 5,000 members serving a range of Dallas' most critical needs. While the lives of our members may look different from those of our founding members, we proudly share their vision and carry on their legacy to build a stronger community through leadership development, civic education and hands-on service.

My ten years as an active member of the Junior League of Dallas have without a doubt changed me for the better. I am a more knowledgeable citizen and volunteer. It has been such an amazing opportunity to serve as the President of the JLD this year. The experiences and connections that I have made will stay with me forever.

As proud as I am of what the league has accomplished this year, I am equally as excited to see what the future holds. Best wishes to Brooke Bailey and all of our members as you continue to build upon the JLD's rich legacy of learning and leading in Dallas during the 2019-2020 year.

Best,

Alicia Hall

Addressing the Critical Needs of Our Community

Signature Project Spotlight: Sixth Annual Women L.E.A.D. Scholarship Program

The Junior League of Dallas awarded $30,000 in collegiate scholarships to five female college-bound students Thursday, March 28 at the sixth annual Women L.E.A.D. Scholarship Speech Competition and Awards Ceremony. The competition was open to female high school seniors who are currently attending Emmett J. Conrad High School, South Oak Cliff High School or Thomas Jefferson High School. Scholarship eligibility requires the students have a 3.0 GPA at the end of their junior year, have plans to attend a two or four-year college or university and have a good record of character and service to the community.

In October 2018, the committee held workshops at the three schools to review the application and scholarship program. After the finalists were selected in February, JLD members re-visited the schools to hold public speaking workshops. The committee scored applications based on the criteria of academic performance, resume, letters of recommendation, transcript and an essay. The top 10 ranked applicants were invited to present their speeches in front of four judges including: Alicia Hall, Junior League of Dallas president; Amy Kendrick Lee, Manager of Community Outreach at Ryan, LLC; Judge Amber Givens-Davis, 282nd Judicial Court Dallas; and JoAnn Jackson Powell, Director of Counseling Services for Dallas ISD.

Before the finalists presented their speeches, WFAA News 8 Anchor and Women L.E.A.D. Emcee Marie Saavedra visited with each of the women to get to know their stories more personally. She then took the stage to welcome the audience and expressed excitement about how each of these women are future leaders and the powerful impact they will have on our community in the years to come. Marie thanked each woman for being open and honest about the hardships they have faced and encouraged the finalists by telling them that they serve as an inspiration to every person in the room.

The oratory competition featured speeches by each of the 10 female finalists who were given the prompt – Imagine yourself as an honored alumnus (graduate) of your high school, five years post-graduation. You've been asked to provide the commencement speech to the 2024 graduating class. Who will you be? What would you want to tell your younger self and this class of graduates?

Guests and judges heard from each student as to how they overcame individual hardships to achieve their dreams, and offered advice to future college students based on their own experiences. The young women shared goals of becoming business owners, doctors, CEO's and music educators. But for many, these dreams wouldn't come without overcoming obstacles. Several are the first in their families to finish high school and have witnessed their parents struggle to make ends meet. On top of these hardships, each woman balanced their schoolwork with work and activities such as band, drill team, debate team, National Honor Society and student council. An overall theme was to dream, no matter the obstacles.

After the speeches concluded and votes were tallied, the judges determined the winners and awarded a total of $30,000 in collegiate scholarship funds to five students based on the merits of their scholarship application and speech presentation. First place winner Adrienne Kelly won a $10,000 scholarship. Rooha Hagharmehdiabadi, Abigail Garcia, Miriam Resendez and Melody Rivera were each awarded $5,000 scholarships. All finalists received beautiful bouquets of flowers courtesy of McShan Florist. Additional event sponsors included: Christy Jean Jewelry, Half Price Books, Newk's Eatery, Tiff's Treats, Topo Chico and WFAA.

Take Flight Auction Party

Auction items included: jewels from Cook Diamonds, a VIP trip to the Kentucky Derby, an annual membership to Network Bar and many other exciting packages. Provisional News

The Provisional class met for their last course meeting on Tuesday, March 19. The meeting focused on the Issue Area of Health and the ladies heard from Mirchelle Lewis, CEO of Cancer Support Community of North Texas.

The Provisionals are wrapping up two projects with the Wilkinson Center and Trinity River Audubon. The Wilkinson Center is a dynamic service provider for families struggling to escape poverty, providing services throughout nine zip codes in East and Southeast Dallas including Pleasant Grove. The Wilkinson Center asked Provisionals to volunteer with the North Texas Food Bank on their behalf. Participants helped organize the food pantry by sorting and packing food collected through food drives and donations.

The Trinity River Audubon Center is one of the flagship nature centers of the National Audubon Society, one of the oldest conservation organizations in the country whose focus is making the world a better place for birds through conservation, education, and advocacy. Provisionals assisted with the construction of a new demonstration bird-friendly garden on the center's grounds. They helped with the landscape design through activities like mulching, planting, and installation of garden paths. The garden will provide an important habitat for native species and serve as a demonstration garden for homeowners and an educational garden for school groups.

Transfer News

On Saturday, March 9, the Winter Transfer Class Project was held at Community Partners of Dallas. This was the first time these new JLD Transfers experienced what it is like to serve with JLD in the Dallas community! Our members welcomed CPS Workers and their families - over 250 individuals - to Community Partners of Dallas' new facility. They greeted attendees, gave tours of the building and led fun activities for children in an effort to make the new location feel a bit more like home. The project was coordinated by JLD Transfer Committee members Kristen Cadenhead and Hannah Galvan and Transfer Committee Chair Krystle Craycraft.
